

KS&R's DIGITAL DISPATCH

Week Ending: November 22, 2019

Top Stories This Week

Facial Recognition: Do You Really Control How Your Face Is Being Used?

The fight over the use of our faces is far from done. (usatoday.com)

FCC To Auction C-Band Spectrum For 5G

Federal Communications Commission Chairman Ajit Pai said Monday the agency will hold a public auction of mid-band wireless spectrum to fuel the deployment of 5G. (cnet.com)

Products & Services

IBM Launches Supercomputer-Powered Global Weather Forecasting

Global computing giant IBM has launched a global weather model, that it claims can provide far more accurate weather forecasts that have been possible before, across the globe. (techhq.com)

Cord Cutters Will Love This New Way To DVR

If you love keeping all your smart home devices compatible, you can now add your DVR to the list. (kenoshanews.com)

Emerging Technology

Exclusive: Humans Placed In Suspended Animation For The First Time

Doctors have placed humans in suspended animation for the first time, as part of a trial in the US that aims to make it possible to fix traumatic injuries that would otherwise cause death. (newscientist.com)

New 'Smart Skin' May Let You Reach Out And Virtually Touch – Anyone

Visualize touching your sweetheart's face on the screen of your laptop and seeing a reaction to your touch in real time, even though you are miles apart. (cnn.com)

Mergers, Acquisitions, & Partnerships

PayPal Buys Coupon Browser Extension Honey For \$4 Billion

Clipping coupons does pay off. (forbes.com)

Industry Reports

Google Stadia To Be The Future Of Gaming, And So Do Microsoft, Sony, And Amazon

Google Stadia, the new service of the tech titan that allows one to play video games as if he is streaming his favorite Netflix TV show, "Stranger Things," launched a week with so many hopes from the aficionados. (techtimes.com)

Dell Plans To Have Women Make Up Half Its Workforce By 2030

Dell has recently released a report about its 2030 goals for societal change. (pulse2.com)